THE WITNESS BOX.

THE peculiar conditions under which the Portuguese Government enjoy the tenure of Macao received but slight elucidation from the evidence tendered by Senhor Horts in the examination of Thursday last. With an (avowed) ignorance which is probably unparalleled on the part of any Colonial Governor ever yet appointed by an European power, he "did not know and could not say" whether Macao was held by right of treaty. He "did not know" whether any rent was paid for the use of the territory on which Macao stands. "He did not exactly know who nominates the council! There can be but one of two conclusions after such evidence as this. Either Senhor Horta was pitiably deficient in the power of memory, or he told deliberate falsehoods. There is no halfway point between the two conclusions. We, of course, dismiss the latter supposition, and must fall back on the curious speciacle of a man being Governor of a Colony for two years without knowing "exactly." whence the Government officials derived their nominations, or whether the city he governed had been bought, or ceded, or was rented, or had been "prigged" from the Chinese! Fur- functions of his high office (as no doubt thermore this extraordinary specimen of he has fortunately a perfectly legal right an authority "didn't know" " what the to do) to a junior who enjoys robust crime was against the Annamites." > change so rapidly, that an event which himself to! We must not believe that took place some five years ago is almost of the amiable, active, astute, Active beyond the recollection of the majority. Attorney General of Hongkong.

It may therefore be interesting to star by way of supplying the information which Senhor Horta was ignorant, that in 1862 the signature of Chinese plenipo. tentiaries was obtained to a treaty be tween Portugal and China, by the help of the French Charge d'Affaires at Peking The second article of this treaty, in the Portuguese version, established by inference the sovereignty of Portugal over the peninsula, and this although the Chi. nese had steadily refused to concede that territory in any sense absolutely. I 1863 when the then Governor Amaral proceeded to Tientsin for the purpose of obtaining the ratification (which alone would render the treaty valid), the Chi. nese asserted that it had not been fairly obtained. An eye-witness of the meeting described to us the scene which ensued when the Commissioners Chung and Such received His Excellency and Aide-de-Camp to discuss the ratification. The placable and good tem. pered Chung, whose words ever acted as oil on the troubled waters of diplomatic discussion, presented a strong contrast to the fiery and ill-tempered Such. Governor Amaral was a man of quick, impatient temper, and it was easy to see that unless Chung's councils prevailed, there was not much hope of an amicable discussion. After the preliminary courtesies had been exchanged, the conversation commenced, and Slieh declared in the most emphatic terms that China would not admit the second article as it stood or at all events without some clause to do away with the interpretation which the GRRATA, NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS, and Portuguese sought to place on it. Start. ing to his feet, Governor Amaral declared that he had come to Tientsin "to ratify the treaty concluded, not to discuss its provisions," and that he would not endure the insolent presumption of the commissioner Süeh, who retorted in high words which were probably not interpreted to the Governor. Without more ado the latter took up his hat, and with scant courtesy left the apartment; and proceed. ing direct to the settlement, had within an hour or so of the interview taken his passage in, and got all his luggage on board, the steamer just leaving, and by that evening was miles away from the scene of his rebuff! We believe that a verbal intimation was conveyed to him that a second interview might result more satisfactorily; but Senhor Amaral-anpright and energetic man, but with far too uncontrollable a temper to make a diplomatist,-refused anything but an unconditional natification of the treaty a it stood—a suggestion which was declined by the Chinese commissioners. The assertions made that Macao is only held by force are therefore strictly correct and its tenure differs from territory held by ordinary conquest, inasmuch as the fact of its having passed from Chinese ossession is still unacknowledged by that Government Perhaps when Senhor Horta gets home he will follow the example of other diplomatists and "write a book" about the foreign countries in which he has played so interesting a part. If he does it will—on the lucus a non lucendo principle—be exceedingly interesting to readers in China after the evidence he has tendered of his acquaintance with Macao and matters Chinese, We com mend the idea to Messrs Trübner & Ca, who would thus contribute a curious

Our local contemporary professes to find fault with His Excellency the Governor for disclaiming, through the Chief Justice, any official knowledge of the libel cases by the Crown against the China Mail. We think His Excellency WES perfectly justified in availing himself of the first legitimate opportunity to clear himself of the suspicion of having approved of the very unusual course which the Attorney General has taken. In any future reference we may make to these precious libel actions, we shall take pains to remember that it is not Her Majesty's Representative who is at all responsible for their being brought in ler Majesty's name, but only Her Majesty's Acting Attorney General, who is either too ill, or too over-worked, or too -(well, never mind what), to prosecute in his own person, but who delegates the own person. In the waterside views we cannot but regret the comparative failure of the water, which, owing to causes beyond the photographer's control, has obstinately persisted in coming out dark-tinted or black: Thus in 112, A View on the Praya, the admirable distinctness of the buildings and the fine lights and shades visible on Messra Dent & Co.'s House are marred by the inky blackness of the tide. No. 111, another view from Messrs De Silver & Co.'s House, Westward, is far better in this respect while the buildings are hardly so prominert. Mr Floyd has wisely abstained from introducing foregrounds (to make use of a bull) in most of the photographs, and the sea has generally proved as successful in distances as it has been in the other case unsatisfactory In No. 120, the Murray Barrack, for instance, the harbour proves a most turesque back-"ground" to the beautifully clear and satisfactory picture produced the barracks, parade and cricket ground, No. 109, the German Club is-a good "elevation" of the German Club; and this is all that can be said for it, beyond acknowledging that by no power whatever could it morial photograph, the homeward bound resident will be glad to possess it.

THE BHANMO EXPEDITION.

We take the following description Bhaumo from an account of the journey Captain Bladen's party to Pansee placed our disposal. Bhanmo was reached on 22d January. The town had a strange, mould dy and decayed appearance. It looked as if it had seen better days, of the return of which it was hopeless. Part of its forlorn look was no doubt due to a recent fire which had done considerable damage. houses were being run up on all sides. Chinese colony possess about forty-five small shops. But the shop keepers are a dull, sleepy, opinin-loving set of men. steamer proved an immense attraction growds of people of all ages flocked on board and gave free expression to the wonder they felt at all they saw. On her first appearance, some of them had run away in panic. In the crush one poor wirl fell, and broke her leg; but the limb was set by the Doctor. Of course the officials visited party in great state, and with a marvellous display, for such little people, of gold umbrellas. The palayer, which followed and which was very long, ended in very grand promises, and then the officials departed in state as they cause. One of the sight-secra, a Burman, went on board drunk, and struck some of the King's men, an offence for which he was adjudged to be beheaded The leader of the expedition, however, begged him off, and he was let go with a severe beating. Outside the palisades which surround the town the eye rests upon nothing but jungle on all sides, Few people venture into its recesses unless well armed, as they all have clearer than that he committed suicide. He a well-founded dread of the Khakhyens, who are not permitted to remain inside the gates. The way business was conducted was amusing. Some of the wild hill-me were encamped under a tree about 200 yards from one of the gates, and an old Chinaman was progressing towards the gate, shouting as he went the price he was willing to pa for a pig : to his offers the Khakhyens screamed a reply. This being unfavorable the old man turned away in disgust, whereupon they redoubled their cries. He roared louder than ever. But just as he was disappearing inside the gate, a regular yell from the Khakhyens put an end to the bartering, and as the old man trotted back with a pleased look in his face, it is to be supposed he received the pig at his own price. The hill-men supply the town with rice, pigs, fowls, and take away raw cotton, salt with match locks, dahs, spears, and here and there cross bows with arrows, which They are described as a ragged, rough, and for their cruelty and treachery. A DEAN AND HIS DIVIDENDS. A most remarkable correspondence is published in the John Bull. Dr Boyd, the present Dean of Exeter, was formerly perpetual curate of Christ Church, Cheltenham This church is a "proprietary" church of the most objectionable type. The property is divided into shares, and the shareholders are baid dividends according to the receipts from the pew-rents, which of course depend upon the popularity of the preacher. Latterly the church has fallen into a state of disgraceful disrepair, and the churchwardens sent round a circular to the shareholders asking them to assent to a deduc tion of 12s. 6d. per share from the dividend for two years, in order to make the necessary repairs. There were only three objectors. among whom was Dean Boyd. The pairs, however, seem to have been made. and the dean thereupon wrote to know how it was that his dividends had not been paid. In reply to the explanation, he wrote a second and as we venture to hope, unparalleled letter from a Church dignitary, in which he declared that he would not consent to the deduction, because, as many of the proprietors had taken shares on the assurance that they would receive from to 6 per cent for their money, and this assurance had not been realised, the congregation ought to bear the cost of putting the pews in order. DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

(Ex. Army Med. Staff)

CHLORODYNE IS THE DRIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE. CAUTIONS .- Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHEDRODYNE: that the story of the Defendant, Freeman, being the Inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent sospital Physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browns was the discoverer of thlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's, -See Times, July 12, 1864. The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S

Chlorodyne. REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION. This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, reli-ves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions and stimulates heathy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while Medical men extot its virtues most extensively, using it in great quantities in the following diseases:-Diseases in which it is found eminently useful

Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhum, Colics, Coughs. Asthma, theup atism, Neuralgia, Whooping Cough, Cramp, Hysteria, &c. EXTRACTS PROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.

The Hight iion. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne. -See Lincet, Dec. 31, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq , late inspector of Hospitals, Bombay .- "Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neurolgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my r storation to health, after 18 months' severe suffering, and when other remedies

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports (Dec., 1865) that in nearly every case of Cholera in Co.; Madraa, Measrs Macdowell & Co.; Bombay, which Dr. J. Collie Brown & Chlorodyne was Messrs Rhodes & Co. administered, the patient recovered Mrs. Forbes, wife of the Chaplain at Paris,---- cannot speak too highly of Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne: I have not in any single instance been disappointed with the result, even in aggravated cases of Indian ! holem." Extract from Medical Times, Jan. 12, 1866 .-

Liblorodyne is prescribed by scores of orthodox medical practitioners. Of course it would not thus be singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place.

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in . holera .- "So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases" Beware of spurious and dangerous compounds sold as CHLORODYNE, from which frequent fatal .CAUTION.-None genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each
